of key council services
2009/10

Welcome to the 2010 service directory for North Somerset Council.

Over the next 10 pages you will find useful information about council services and details of who to contact when you need help or advice. The guide is in A-Z format to make it easy for you to find what you are looking for.

The council provides more than 600 services and you never know when you might need one, so keep this directory handy and help will never be more than a phone call away.

Turn to the back of the booklet for details of all local councillors.

How to contact us:

Save money and time by getting online and visiting the council's recently revamped website.

Close up those wall cavities

Kim Herival, home energy efficiency officer: 01934
426 686

Home energy use is responsible for 27 per cent of the UK's carbon dioxide emissions so making a few changes could help you kick your carbon footprint.

By making homes more energy efficient it means emissions will be reduced, saving money and the environment.

Cavity wall insulation is the single most cost-effective way of doing this by reducing heat lost through walls by up to 40 per cent.

This brings many benefits, including keeping the house warmer for longer and cooler in summer, reducing condensation and having fewer drafts.

All this means you don't need to switch the heating on so often, therefore reducing your fuel bills. It is estimated that after the initial outlay, savings are made within three or four years.

Cavities (hollow spaces between walls) were originally included in older properties to avoid the problems of dampness but studies have since shown that filling in these spaces does not result in more dampness.

Anyone thinking of going ahead with cavity wall insulation should ask a number of installers to assess their property to determine which material is best suited. The installation is then done from the outside in about half a day. Look for approved Cavity Wall Guarantee Agency (CIGA) installers.

Chairman's choice

Getting out and about in the community and meeting people from all walks of life is one of highlights of being chairman of the council.

Councillors are chosen for this non-political civic role for a year to act as a representative of the council and promote the area.

Cllr Ann Harley, who is ward member for Banwell and Winscombe, is the current chairman and she said: "The role of the chairman is to highlight the whole of North Somerset, to actively promote the area and show people all the good things that are going on."

She is looking forward to attending functions throughout the year and also has plenty of her own ideas up her sleeve.

Cllr Harley added: "I'm hoping to get a few events off the ground, to get involved in the community, see as many people as possible and hear their views."

Every chairman of North Somerset Council nominates a charity to support during their year in office and Cllr Harley has chosen three - The Strawberry Line, North Somerset Young Carers Service and Weston Hospicecare.

Do you have an event you would like the chairman of the council to attend? Call 01275 888 780 or email chairmanofthecouncil@n-somerset.gov.uk

Spectacular Sand Bay

Enjoy the rugged North Somerset coastline at Sand Bay during this invigorating walk. It was suggested by class 6Y from St Martin's Junior School in Worle, who spent an enjoyable afternoon hunting for fossils and spotting wildflowers.

With three car parks along Beach Road, the route can be varied depending on how much time you have. If starting at the most southerly car park, turn right onto a little wooden bridge to walk onto the grassy beach path.

Follow this path, which runs parallel to Beach Road, northwards until you reach Cygnet Hospital. Cross the road here and a little further on, turn right into Crookes Lane. A gravel path runs alongside the lane.

Follow this until the road bears to the right, near Ardnave Holiday Park. The public footpath is on the left, past the stream and cottage, running alongside the fence.

It is suitable for dogs but keep them on a lead and stay on the path through the meadow. Continue ahead, over a couple of little wooden bridges and stiles. Watch out for nettles and thorns.

Eventually the path leads out into the car park of Sand Bay Leisure Resort so head back onto Beach Road and take the steps up onto the grass verge. There are some benches here to sit and enjoy the view.

The sand dunes are man-made sea defences, installed in 1983/4 after a major storm in 1981. More than 600,000 tonnes of sand was dredged up from the Severn Estuary to raise the beach by about three metres at the base of the old sea wall. Paling fencing was also installed to help stabilise the dunes and encourage vegetation.

Walk information

Distance: circular route from most southerly car park is about 5 miles, depending on how far you walk across Middle Hope

Difficulty: medium. Some kissing gates, steep steps and rugged paths

Duration: about 3hrs at a leisurely pace

Public toilets: Sand Road car park, off Beach Road, and National Trust car park at base of Sand Point

How to get there

Car There are three free car parks along Beach Road in Kewstoke. The most southerly is opposite the Commodore Hotel.

Bus Services 1 to Kewstoke and Sand Bay from bus stop 'S' opposite Silica, Regent Street, Weston-super-Mare.

At the northern end of the beach, you will also see the remains of concrete forts, which were used as a line of defence during the Second World War by local troops and the Home Guard.

At the end of the beach, step over the small stone wall into the National Trust car park. From here, there are a number of paths up to the headland. If you follow the track, you will see a sign pointing towards the headland, with fairly steep steps up heading to Middle Hope. The grassy expanse has been grazed by local farmers since the Middle Ages and stock grazing still takes place so keep dogs under effective control.

If you veer to the right you will see magnificent views across the bay and the Severn Estuary, so take time to explore. To the left is a dry stone wall with a wooden gate. Go through here to follow the National Trust path. This leads towards Sand Point and there are a number of routes you can take towards the end of the rugged headland. Take care along narrow, steep paths.

Many birds can be spotted from Sand Point so keep your eyes peeled for Shelducks, Curlew, Oystercatcher, Little Egret, Short-eared Owl or a Skylark. You will also have far-reaching views over the mudflats, sand banks, rocky platforms and saltmarsh, which form the Site of Special Scientific Interest.

On the return leg, follow the lower path on your left and this will lead you to a small pebble beach. You will then need to climb back across the peninsular to the other side to make your way back down the steps to the car park. From here, you can walk back along the beach towards your car.

Class 6Y, of St Martin's Junior School, explore the area:

There are fantastic facilities such as ice-cream vans, rock pooling, fossil hunting and flower hunting. All this in just one day – it's brilliant.

Olivia Love and William James

As you walk up the steps you see the wonderful surroundings, the birds are singing and there are lovely coloured flowers.
