Development
and Environment: a directorate overview

Development and Environment provides a huge variety services, which mainly deal directly with the public. These include roadworks, waste and recycling collections, regeneration and economic development, trading standards, libraries and transport. This information is designed to point you in the right direction if you ever need to contact the services.

The contact details for service managers are for your private use only, please don’t pass these on to members of the public. Unless otherwise stated, all email addresses for officers use the format firstname.lastname@n-somerset.gov.uk.

If you have any requests, questions, comments or complaints about any of our services, please use the contact details provided in the first instance. Only if things are not progressing to your satisfaction would we suggest contacting me.

The quickest, simplest and most effective way to log service requests is through our website at www.n-somerset.gov.uk/connect, as the request goes directly into our systems.

We ask you to encourage members of the public to do this where possible, but appreciate that not everyone is able to, so telephone numbers for public enquiries are also published. Most routine calls are dealt with by our contact centre, rather than professional front line officers.

As well as key contact details we have also put together some answers to frequently asked questions, but more detailed information is available on our website.

We hope this helps you understand our directorate and who to contact.

Frequently asked questions

How do I know what applications have been lodged in my ward?
You’ll receive a regular list by email of planning applications submitted in your ward which will also explain which planning officer is dealing with each case.

How do I view a copy of an application?
All planning applications and related correspondence can be viewed at www.n-somerset.gov.uk/planning. Guidance on how to search for applications is also available.

What should I do if I have concerns about an application?
Each planning application has a nominated case officer who will be happy to talk through your concerns and advise you. We will supply you with a list of teams and contact names as part of your induction but these are for your private use only. If a resident asks for advice, direct them to www.n-somerset.gov.uk/planning or 01275 888 811. Public enquiries are no longer dealt with by case officers directly, instead a team of call handlers respond to general enquiries allowing case officers to use their time more efficiently.

How should I object to an application?
There is a very strict legal process we have to follow when deciding planning applications. Applications which comply with our planning policies must be approved unless there are very good reasons, backed up by clear evidence, not to do so.

Local opposition to a proposal is not a reason for refusing an application, unless there are valid planning reasons which are supported by substantial evidence. It’s best to speak to the nominated case officer dealing with that application, who will discuss it with you and offer advice.

Your constituent must log their comments online at www.n-somerset.gov.uk/planning for them to be taken into account.

How will I know the outcome of an application?
All decisions are available to view at www.n-somerset.gov.uk/planning.

Which applications are decided by committee?
Unless an application is subject to one or more of the conditions described in the protocol for delegating planning decisions to officers, it will be decided by a planning officer. You can refer any application in your ward to committee, or any application in an adjoining ward if the proposal would have a significant impact on your ward. This is explained in the code of practice for referral of planning applications by councillors to committee. Both documents can be viewed at www.n-somerset.gov.uk/planningaz.
What happens if someone is doing building work without planning permission?

Not all building work needs permission so we’ll always check that first. Information about general planning law at www.planningportal.gov.uk will help to give you an idea of whether or not permission is needed.

For building work which does need permission but no application has been made, we prioritise the complaint according to how severe the impact will be. We’ll visit the site and aim to decide whether formal enforcement action should be taken within eight weeks of receiving the report.

It’s not a criminal offence to carry out work without planning permission. If we think the unauthorised work is likely to get permission we may invite a planning application. In some situations we may decide that no further action is warranted. Our local enforcement plan tells you more about the procedures, and can be viewed at www.n-somerset.gov.uk/planningaz.

Report possible breaches of planning rules online at www.n-somerset.gov.uk/reportplanning.

How can I find out more about the planning or building control procedures?

Information on our procedures and processes is available at www.n-somerset.gov.uk/planning. Useful advice on the planning system is also available from www.planningportal.gov.uk – a national website that also includes a glossary of commonly used terms.

How can I find out information about the local economy?

Our economic development team has a wealth of information about the local economy and provides useful advice for businesses and employers – both large and small. For an overview of services visit www.innorthsomerset.co.uk. This website also has contact details for the team if you need more detailed advice.

How can I find out more about the plans for Weston town centre?

We’ll hold regular briefings and publish updates to keep you informed but keep an eye on www.n-somerset.gov.uk/westonvision for the latest information.

How do I find out which planning policies affect me?

The main policies are the replacement local plan and the core strategy - two high level documents which frame all the other planning guidance. There are many more planning guidance documents, including those which make up the local development framework and supplementary planning advice. All our policies are available at www.n-somerset.gov.uk/planningpolicy.

How do I get a policy changed?

There is a very strict process we have to follow to adopt planning policies, which means it’s not usually very easy to change them. Generally, if you do not agree with an adopted policy you will have to wait until it is reviewed to get changes made. For more information about getting involved with the planning policy consultation process visit www.n-somerset.gov.uk/planningpolicy and download a copy of our statement of community involvement.

What is the core strategy?
The core strategy is a planning policy document which sets out the broad long-term vision, objectives and strategic planning policies for North Somerset up until 2026. Once adopted, it provides the framework for the development of more detailed planning policies and land use allocations.

It’s important to remember it is a very high level document, so it doesn’t give details about what’s happening at street level. A high court challenge requiring us to review the number of houses we need to plan for has delayed adoption of one of the policies. In March 2015, the number of 20,985 was accepted by a government planning inspector. The Secretary of State is reviewing this at the council’s request.

How can I find out about my ward profile?
A lot of our key data including: ward profiles, population estimates and census information is available at www.n-somerset.gov.uk/research. If there’s anything else you need, contact details for our research and monitoring team are available online.

How do developers provide the infrastructure needed as a result of their developments?
If a development is proven to create a need for extra infrastructure like additional school places, the developer will have to enter into a contract with us - known a section 106 agreement - which sets out how they will carry out works or pay for infrastructure that’s needed, including affordable housing.

However, we have to provide a strong justification for any infrastructure contributions and these must comply with a number of legal tests. These agreements can’t be used to deal with existing problems that are not a result of the development, and we have to consider whether the contributions are reasonably affordable. More detailed information is available in the development contributions: principles and operational guidance supplementary planning document at www.n-somerset.gov.uk/spd.

How do I find out about section 106 contributions within my ward?
A database of contributions that have been paid or are owed is kept by the finance and development management teams. Email research.monitoring@n-somerset.gov.uk if you have questions about contributions within your area.

Frequently asked questions

How do I report a road problem?

The quickest and simplest way to report problems with roads and pavements – including street lighting and potholes – is at www.n-somerset.gov.uk/connect. When a pothole is reported, we’ll inspect the problem and arrange for repairs where necessary.
Why aren’t all potholes repaired straightaway?
Not all defects are potholes. We have to prioritise repairs because we can’t afford to repair everything. If the problem you’ve reported doesn’t meet our criteria for intervention, we’ll monitor it and arrange any repair work as appropriate.

How do you define a pothole?
A pothole is a sharp-edged hole usually created by water or weather damage or heavy vehicles. It must be more than 4cm deep and 30cm across in the road, or deeper than 2cm and more than 15cm across on a pavement. A ‘dangerous pothole’ is a pothole in the road that exceeds these dimensions and is in a location likely to cause a vehicle to lose control.

How quickly do you investigate pothole reports?
We aim to investigate potholes on roads and pavements within 24 hours of being told about them. Where necessary, we will carry out emergency repairs to make dangerous potholes safe, and aim to repair 95% of other holes within 28 days.

How do you prioritise road repairs?
We look at the cost of maintaining a road over its lifetime and carry out treatments that provide the best value in the long term. It’s often cheaper to treat a road before it deteriorates to the point where complete replacement is necessary. We survey the substructure of the road to identify any weaknesses which is why it may sometimes appear that a ‘good’ road is being treated, when in reality it needs work to maintain its condition. We prioritise repairs using nationally recognised guidelines.

Where can I see roadworks taking place in my area?
Our roadworks map shows all authorised roadworks taking place across the district. You can set up alerts to be notified of any works planned in your area and find out which organisation is responsible for them. Visit www.n-somerset.gov.uk/streets for a link to the website and information about how to use it.

How do I report a problem with traffic lights?
Call 0800 854 229 to report faulty traffic lights 24 hours a day. If you need to report a problem with temporary traffic lights at roadworks you’ll need to contact the organisation responsible for the works, which you can find out at www.northsomerset.roadworks.org. If we’re responsible for the work, report the problem at www.n-somerset.gov.uk/connect.

How can I find out if land is owned by the council?
We publish details of land that is maintained at public expense at: www.n-somerset.gov.uk/streets.
How do I find out about bus passes?
Information about the Diamond Travelcard – a concessionary pass for older people or people with disabilities – is available at www.n-somerset.gov.uk/diamond, including eligibility criteria and how to apply.

Where do I find information about winter maintenance?
During winter months we introduce a maintenance routine to combat severe weather and keep our roads moving. Find out details about what we do, including salting routes, at www.n-somerset.gov.uk/winterroads.

Frequently asked questions

How do I report dog mess or fly-tipping?

Report dog mess in the street fly-tipped waste and other problems at www.n-somerset.gov.uk/connect.

Where can I find information about noise nuisance or pest control?

Information is available at www.n-somerset.gov.uk/environmentalprotection, including details of action we can take.

How do I make a complaint about underage sales, rogue/doorstep traders or scams?

These issues are dealt with by trading standards. Find out more and report problems at www.n-somerset.gov.uk/tradingstandards or call the Citizens Advice Bureau on 03454 040 506.

How do I find out about high profile licenses that have been applied for in my area?

We send out a fortnightly email with details of all the licenses which have been applied for under the Licensing Act 2003, including applications from pubs, clubs and restaurants. You’ll be consulted on licences for things like street trading or street cafes in your ward. There are other licenses that we issue, but unless they have an impact on the community we will not actively tell you about them, but details are available at www.n-somerset.gov.uk/licensing.

Do business inspections cost a lot of money?

We only inspect and take formal action against individuals and businesses that pose a risk to our communities, or who negatively impact residents’ quality of life or legitimate, law abiding businesses. Our services are streamlined and represent good value for money and we’re about three years ahead of other local authorities in respect of our business strategies and in identifying the most cost efficient and cost effective way to deliver services.

Do you prosecute a lot of businesses?

No, we only prosecute as a last resort and when it is in the interests of the community. For example, if a business is getting an advantage over law abiding organisations by operating illegally, we will take formal action.

How can my local library help me access council services?

All our libraries are set up as ‘gateways’ to council services and can answer basic questions or put you in touch with relevant contacts in services. You can also get answers to any questions you have, on any subject by using our enquiry centre. Call 01934 888 855, text 07919 540 839 or email answers@n-somerset.gov.uk.

Frequently asked questions

Where can I find information about recycling and waste collections?
There’s detailed information at www.n-somerset.gov.uk/recycling about all our kerbside collection services – recycling, refuse and food waste – including what items are collected, as well as other services that we provide to residents. Our comprehensive guide to services can also be downloaded.

What’s the best way to report a missed collection?
The quickest and simplest way is to report it at www.n-somerset.gov.uk/connect, which puts a request directly into our system. Please encourage residents to do this as well. If residents complain to you about a persistent problem you can raise this with our waste contract manager, but please don’t give these details to members of the community.

Can elderly or disabled people get help putting their bins out?
Yes, if someone isn’t able to put out their bins or recycling boxes by themselves, we can arrange for them to have an assisted collection. Information is available at www.n-somerset.gov.uk/assistedcollections.

How can an area officer help me?
The area officer for your area should be your first point of contact if you need advice on what’s happening locally. They will often know of any reported problems, and can update you on any issues you have reported yourself.
Why don’t you pick up grass cuttings?

We’re responsible for around 900 hectares of grassland. With so much land to maintain it’s just not possible for us to clear the cuttings once we have finished mowing. It would at least double the amount of time it would take us to complete each area, which means it would also cost a lot more.

Where can I find out more information about the Strawberry Line?

Information about the Strawberry Line route is available from www.thestrawberryline.org.uk.

What permission is needed for an event on council-owned land?

The first step is to check that the location is available on the date required. Our events team will be able to check this, and advise on completing the necessary forms. See www.n-somerset.gov.uk/events.

What issues can Community Response Officers help with?

These officers deal with anti-social behaviour that occurs in our parks and open spaces, including dog fouling, illegal fly-posting and graffiti. They also provide a visible presence in the community by patrolling known hotspot areas identified through multi-agency tasking meetings.

How can I contact Community Response Officers?

There’s a dedicated email address for councillors. You can email: community.response@n-somerset.gov.uk with any issues or questions.

What days do Community Response Officers work?

Officers are working seven days a week from 9am-5pm across the district, but working patterns can be adjusted if necessary to help other council teams.

What’s the difference between Area Officers and Community Response Officers?

Area Officers continue to be the first point of contact for all streetscene issues. Community Response Officers work closely with the Area Officers to tackling ongoing issues that cross over between local police beat team and the council, putting in place plans to bring together relevant team to tackle persistent problems.
