

Abbots Leigh, Ham Green, Pill and Easton-in-Gordano Neighbourhood Plan

Information for voters

About this document

On Thursday 23 September 2021, there will be a referendum on a neighbourhood plan for the Abbots Leigh, Ham Green, Pill and Easton-in-Gordano neighbourhood area. This document explains the referendum that is going to take place and how you can take part in it. It explains:-

- why we have neighbourhood plans and other development plans
- the referendum and how you can take part

Referendum on the Neighbourhood Plan

A referendum asks you to vote yes or no to a question. For this referendum you will receive a ballot paper with this question:

“Do you want North Somerset Council to use the Neighbourhood Plan for Abbots Leigh, Ham Green, Pill and Easton-in-Gordano to help it decide planning applications in the Abbots Leigh, Ham Green, Pill and Easton-in-Gordano neighbourhood area?”

The “Abbots Leigh, Ham Green, Pill and Easton-in-Gordano neighbourhood area” is the combined parishes of Abbots Leigh and Pill & Easton-in-Gordano.

What does my vote mean?

You show your choice by putting a cross (X) in the ‘Yes’ or ‘No’ box on your ballot paper.

Put a cross in only one box or your vote will not be counted.

If more people vote ‘yes’ than ‘no’ in this referendum, then North Somerset Council will use the Neighbourhood Plan to help it decide planning applications in the area covered by the Neighbourhood Plan i.e. the combined parishes of Abbots Leigh and Pill & Easton-in-Gordano.

The Neighbourhood Plan will then become part of the Development Plan. This is a set of documents which set out planning policies to guide development in North Somerset.

If more people vote ‘no’ than ‘yes’, then planning applications will be decided without using the Neighbourhood Plan as part of the Development Plan for the local area. See later in this document for information on making sure you are able to vote.

Planning and neighbourhood plans

What is neighbourhood planning?

Neighbourhood planning aims to help local communities play a direct role in planning the areas in which they live and work. A community can prepare a neighbourhood plan. This plan can show how the community wants land to be used and developed in its area.

What is a neighbourhood area?

A neighbourhood area can cover single streets or large urban or rural areas. In North Somerset the boundaries of a neighbourhood area are put forward by town or parish councils.

The boundary of the Abbots Leigh, Ham Green, Pill and Easton-in-Gordano neighbourhood area was approved by North Somerset Council on 25 August 2016. The Neighbourhood Area is shown on the map on p8.

Who can prepare a neighbourhood plan?

Neighbourhood plans in North Somerset can be prepared by town or parish councils. Normally, planning is the responsibility of the local planning authority (North Somerset Council). In this case, the Abbots Leigh, Ham Green, Pill and Easton-in-Gordano Neighbourhood Plan was prepared under the authority of both Abbots Leigh and Pill & Easton-in-Gordano Parish Councils, with Pill & Easton-in-Gordano Parish Council being the lead Council.

Why do we need neighbourhood plans and other development plans?

Most new buildings, major changes to existing buildings or major changes to the local environment (including building work, engineering work and mining work) need consent - known as planning permission. Without a planning system everyone could construct buildings or use land in any way they wanted, no matter what effect this would have on other people who live and work in their area.

Planning involves making decisions about the future of our towns, villages and countryside and considering the future sustainable needs of communities. Decisions on planning applications are based on national planning policy guidance, any local plans and any relevant neighbourhood plan. Together local plans and neighbourhood plans make up what is known collectively as the development plan.

North Somerset Council is responsible for deciding whether any development which needs planning permission - anything from an extension on a house to a new shopping centre - should go ahead within the district, using national planning policy and the development plan policies for guidance.

What is a development plan?

In England, planning applications are determined by local planning authorities in accordance with the development plan.

A development plan is a set of documents that set out the policies for the development and use of land across the entire local authority area. If the Abbots Leigh, Ham Green, Pill and Easton-in-Gordano Neighbourhood Plan passes the referendum vote then it will become part of the development plan for North Somerset. It will then be used along with the other development plan documents for making decisions on planning applications within the Abbots Leigh, Ham Green, Pill and Easton-in-Gordano neighbourhood area.

In North Somerset the development plan consists of the following documents

- North Somerset Core Strategy (2017)
- Proposals map
- Sites and Policies Plan: Part 1 Development Management policies (2016)
- Sites and Policies Plan: Part 2 Site Allocations Plan (2018)
- Waste Local Plan (2002)
- Joint Waste Core Strategy (2011)
- Mineral Working in Avon Local Plan (1993)

Neighbourhood Plans

- Backwell Neighbourhood Plan (2015)
- Long Ashton Neighbourhood Plan (2015)
- Claverham Neighbourhood Plan (2018)
- Congresbury Neighbourhood Plan (2019)
- Yatton Neighbourhood Plan (2019)

How is a neighbourhood plan prepared?

There is a statutory process that must be followed for the making of a neighbourhood plan. This is the process which the Abbots Leigh, Ham Green, Pill and Easton-in-Gordano Neighbourhood Plan has followed. The neighbourhood area (area to which the plan relates) must be designated and there can only be one neighbourhood plan for each neighbourhood area. The neighbourhood plan must also specify a period for which it is to have effect. The Abbots Leigh, Ham Green, Pill and Easton-in-Gordano Neighbourhood Plan would be effective to 2026.

The local community can decide what to include in a neighbourhood plan, but it must meet the following 'basic conditions':

- Must have regard to national planning policy and advice contained in any other guidance issued by the Secretary of State
- Must contribute to the achievement of sustainable development
- Must be in general conformity with strategic policies in the development plan for the local area (i.e. the Local Plan)
- Must be compatible with EU obligations and human rights requirements.

Neighbourhood plans should not promote less development than set out in the Local Plan or undermine its strategic policies.

The draft plan must be prepared through a process of consultation with local residents and businesses and the final draft plan must be subject to a set 'publicity period', where people are given an opportunity to submit comments. An independent examiner then reviews these comments and checks whether the neighbourhood plan meets the basic conditions and other requirements set out in the regulations. This is to make sure that referendums only take place when proposals are workable and meet planning rules. The examiner then reports whether any modifications need be made so that the plan meets the basic conditions and whether it should proceed to a referendum. The Abbots Leigh, Ham Green, Pill and Easton-in-Gordano Neighbourhood Plan examiner concluded that a number of modifications were necessary to the plan in order to meet the basic conditions.

North Somerset Council then decide, having regard to the statutory criteria, whether to accept the examiners recommendations and proceed to organise a referendum. North Somerset Council decided at Executive on 23 June 2021 that the Abbots Leigh, Ham Green, Pill and Easton-in-Gordano Neighbourhood Plan with modifications would meet the necessary tests. The referendum will consider whether the local planning authority should use the neighbourhood plan for the area concerned to help it decide planning applications. All those registered to vote within the neighbourhood area are entitled to vote in the referendum.

North Somerset Council must "make" the neighbourhood plan (i.e. make it part of the development plan) if more than half of those voting in the referendum vote in favour of the plan.

Once made and adopted the neighbourhood plan will be part of the statutory development plan and will be used in determining decisions on planning applications.
